The process includes selectively interrogating a web page in response to a pre-selected mode. Selectively interrogating the web page includes the steps of: a) listing a set of hooks corresponding to at least a portion of the client data, in which each hook of the set of the hooks constitutes an alternative entry of a method for performing an action on the client data; and b) passing the at least a portion of the client data to corresponding methods using hooks in the set of the hooks, and wherein a web page is not returned to a client in response to the passing of the client data.

The examiner considers the applicants' claims 1-30 to be allowable based on the claim interpretation and the aforesaid prior arts of record.
